For all the parents that had to wait longer to hear a first word, who spent more time in doctors offices with their child than on playdates, who endure the countless “bad days” and the stares from other people..... For the parents whose child’s first friend was their therapist... For the parents who face special needs everyday...

WE SALUTE YOU!

Want to be a part of the solution?

Join the Accessible Communities Committee. We identify barriers that people with disabilities experience in our community. The committees address those needs with projects to obtain accessibility for everyone. Physical, mental health, at-risk, veterans, cognitive, etc. Our community needs to be accessible to all.

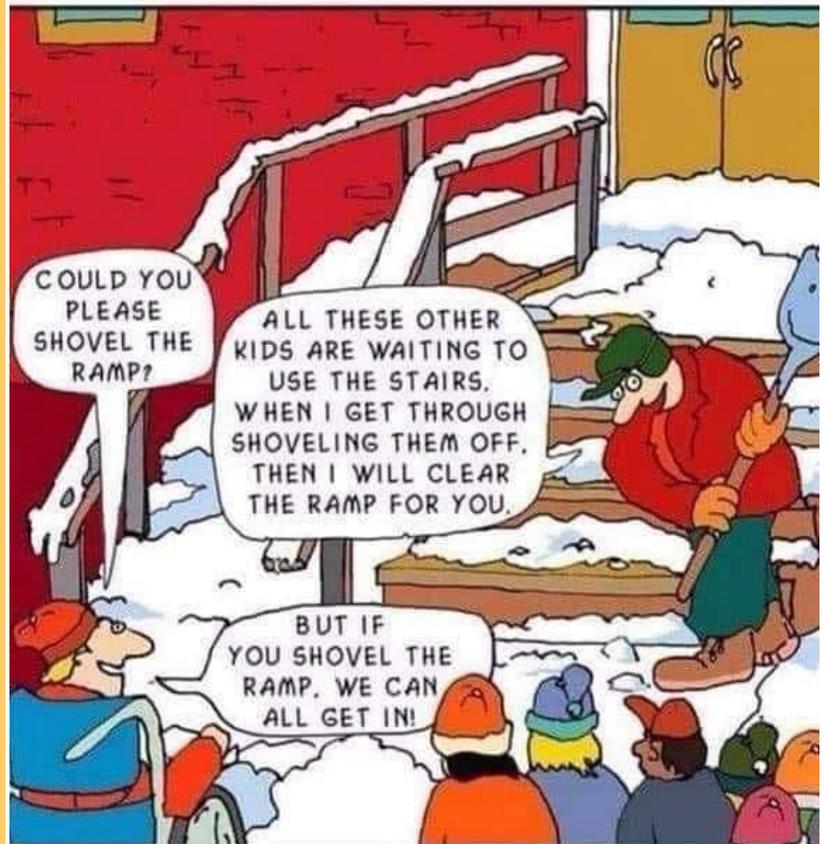

We are seeking self-advocates and family members, as well as providers to be a part of these committees. One committee on Whidbey Island and one on Camano Island. The committees are a sub-set of the Governor’s Committee on Disability Issues and Employment. Collaboration is key.

Questions or want more details, contact Tiffany Wheeler-Thompson, facilitator for Island County. Check out the Governor's website for more details.

Accessing Mental Health Services in Washington State

If your child has a dual diagnosis of I/DD and mental illness, overlapping systems can make it difficult to know where to turn for crisis intervention, evaluation, and treatment (including individual therapy, group therapy and medication management). Except in the case of a life-threatening emergency—when it’s time to call 911—the following offers a simple guide to three main access points for mental health services, also known as behavioral health.

PRIMARY CARE PROVIDER

Covered by: Apple Health (formerly Medicaid); Medicare; Private Insurance

For children and adults receiving Apple Health/Medicaid who do not meet Access to Care standards (see inset), and individuals covered under private insurance or Medicare. Contact your primary care provider for evaluation, treatment and/or referral to a mental health professional enrolled in Apple Health or your private health care plan. Some plans allow for self-referral to a mental health professional. Consult your plan for details.

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH ORGANIZATIONS (BHO)

Covered by: DSHS Division of Behavioral Health & Recovery for Medicaid-eligible individuals

For children and adults who meet Access to Care standards (see right) for higher intensity mental health services not covered by the Apple Health plan, and for substance use treatment. BHOs coordinate mental health services through contracts with community mental health agencies in their area. BHOs exist in every county except Clark and Skamania (where all mental health services are provided through the individual’s Apple Health’s Managed Care Organization).

To access services::

- Contact your local BHO directly (for a list of contact numbers, visit: informingfamilies.org/bho); or,
- Contact a BHO-contracted treatment agency directly; or,
- Contact the 24-hour, free and confidential Washington Recovery Help Line at 1-866-789-1511 (TTY 1-206-461-3219), or visit www.waRecoveryHelpLine.org. You will be referred to a BHO that will connect you with a provider.

DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES ADMINISTRATION (DDA)

Covered by: DDA Program Funding

For children and adults enrolled in DDA. Contact your DDA Case Resource Manager to request behavioral support or behavioral health stabilization services.

BHO Eligibility Standards

The individual is determined to have a mental illness under a covered diagnosis.

The individual’s impairment(s) and corresponding need(s) must be the result of a mental illness.

The intervention is deemed to be reasonably calculated to improve, stabilize or prevent deterioration of functioning resulting from the presence of a mental illness.

The individual is expected to benefit from the intervention.

The individual’s unmet need would not be more appropriately met by any other formal or informal system or support.

Options for Children with Intensive Behavioral Support Needs

If your son or daughter has intensive support needs due to mental health or other disability-related behaviors that pose a risk to health and safety, the Developmental Disabilities Administration (DDA) and the Division of Behavioral Health & Recovery's Regional Support Networks (RSNs) have programs that provide stabilization and support for both the child and family.

DDA

CHILDREN'S INTENSIVE IN-HOME BEHAVIOR SUPPORT (CIIBS)

Positive behavior support and team-based planning for children with developmental disabilities (ages 8-20) living in the family home who are at risk of out-of-home placement due to the intensity of their behavioral challenges. In CIIBS, the family partners with a behavior specialist to create and follow a positive behavior support plan that fits the whole family. Other services include respite, assistive technology, and therapeutic equipment and supplies.

ENHANCED RESPITE

Short-term respite in a DDA contracted (and licensed) staffed residential home for youth between ages 8 to 18. Enhanced Respite provides a break in caregiving, behavioral stabilization and service planning with the goal for the youth to remain in the family home. Respite can be received for a maximum of 30 calendar days in a year and is offered in two sites: Shoreline and Bonney Lake.

COMMUNITY CRISIS STABILIZATION SERVICE

A state operated community behavioral health stabilization program that provides short-term supports to individuals who are in crisis or risk of hospitalization (comparable to CLIP). Intensive supports and collaborative treatment services for up to 180 days to youth ages 8 to 17 (up to 21 for school-enrolled participants), with the goal of returning to the family home.

➔ TO APPLY FOR DDA SERVICES

If your child is a client of DDA, but not receiving a paid service, call the No Paid Services number in your area and ask to be assessed for CIIBS waiver enrollment.

If your child is receiving services from DDA, but it is not enough to help your child remain at home, contact your case resource manager.

For the number of the DDA office nearest you, visit:

dshs.wa.gov/ddd/contacts.shtml

RSN

CHILDREN'S LONG TERM IN-PATIENT PROGRAM (CLIP)

Psychiatric treatment in a secure and highly structured setting designed to assess, treat and stabilize youth diagnosed psychiatric and behavioral disorders (5 locations in the state). Treatment is designed to increase the youth's skills and adaptive functioning with a focus on reintegration back into a community setting, as quickly as possible. CLIP is a course of mental health treatment, not a place for the child to live indefinitely.

WHO IS IT FOR?

Legal residents between ages 5-18 diagnosed with a severe psychiatric disorder whose needs exceed those offered by community mental health resources and who pose a risk to self or others.

For more information, visit clipadministration.org

➔ TO APPLY FOR CLIP

Contact your local RSN's designated Children's Care Coordinator (CCC) to informally assess what mental health resources have already been tried and what else could be tried. If the RSN feels that CLIP is appropriate, an application will be provided.

SSI vs SSDI

SSI and SSDI are both programs for supporting people who have disabilities that stop them from being able to work.

However, the program that works best for you will be dependent upon a couple of different factors. We broke down the differences between SSI & SSDI

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a program through the Social Security Administration (SSA) designed to provide a monetary benefit to Americans who are older than 65, blind, or disabled. SSI is needs-based, meaning that the beneficiaries must be below a certain asset threshold. And they must have limited income, and/or income earning potential.

SSI is often paired with Medicaid, administered by individual states. Recipients of SSI often also qualify for food stamps.

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) is similar to an insurance program you might buy into for the contingency that you might become unable to work due to an injury in the future. In actual fact, it is essentially just that – an insurance program. Though, it's not really opt-in if you're employed; you pay (or paid) into it through payroll taxes. You may qualify for a spouses or parents benefit.

The payout for SSDI is typically higher than SSI, but it requires that you have a relatively recent work history, to base the amount of your benefits on. Beneficiaries become eligible for Medicare after two years of being on SSDI.

Talk with a benefits planner (available with Social Security Administration <https://www.ssa.gov/planners/>) to identify what you may qualify for or what works best for you.

Social Security "Disability"

SSI	SSDI
Supplemental Security Income	Social Security Disability Insurance
65+ Years; or, Blind; or, Disabled	Recent Work History (within 5 years)
Income Restrictions	Unable to Work Due to Disability
Medicaid (after 2 months)	Medicare (after 2 years)
